

Identification is the First Step to Improvement in Morgan County

A community thrives when all of its members have what they need to survive. Mountains of research suggest that educational attainment, sufficient income, and access to healthcare allow people to meet their basic needs, which in turn strengthens the viability of the community. The following report provides data to identify how Morgan County is doing in each of these areas, and suggestions for how you can help make Morgan County a better place to live.

Source: STATSIIndiana

Source: STATSIIndiana

Source: County Health Rankings

Basic Needs

Data from 211 reveal that many Morgan County residents have a difficult time meeting basic needs. From July 2014—June 2015, 1,690 people called 211 for help with 2,561 needs and received 3,322 referrals to community resources. Another 1,209 searched www.Connect2Help211.org online to find resources.

Top Needs—FY14/15

Top Unmet Needs—FY14/15

8% of Morgan County needs were recorded as "unmet" by 211.

Community Assets (and how YOU can help)

211 maintains detailed information on 133 services physically located in Morgan County and another 3,789 resources outside of the county that will serve Morgan County residents. These resources span the entire human services continuum, including everything from educational, income support and healthcare services to food pantries, shelters, and utility bill help to environmental/public health and governmental services. You can support these community assets in a variety of ways:

Volunteer Time—Many community agencies desperately need volunteers to help offset the cost of providing services. Call 211 to see where help is needed in Morgan County.

Donate Money—Even small amounts make a HUGE difference. Consider supporting an individual agency or donate to organizations such as the United Way that maximize donated dollars by strategically funding agencies that have a community impact.

Advocate—211 can connect you with your local, state, and federal representatives to share your views on community issues about which you are passionate.